Isaacson, Miller

www.imsearch.com

Ericka Miller leads Isaacson, Miller's preK-12 education and education improvement executive search practice, and she serves on the firm's executive committee. With a focus on strengthening our civic sector, she has seen first-hand how the right leader is key to advancing an organizational mission. Prior to joining the firm, Ericka held leadership positions in nearly every educational arena. She worked on Capitol Hill as an education advisor in the U.S. Senate, served as president of The McKenzie Group, managed The Education Trust as COO, and served as a political appointee in the U.S. Department of Education. Ericka currently serves on the boards of NWEA, NSLA, the Institute for Higher Education Policy, and ACT for Alexandria. She is also a member of Leadership Greater Washington's Class of 2004.
