Kristine Stratton is the president and chief executive officer of the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA). In her role, she is responsible for the nearly $20 million national organization that works to ensure all people have access to parks for health, conservation and recreation.

With more than 60,000 members, NRPA is the national voice for park and recreation professionals and the essential work they do to serve communities nationwide. Stratton believes strongly in NRPA's mission – to advance parks, recreation and environmental conservation efforts that improve the quality of life for all people.
